Dave,

I've not seen it and the context was not at all what we had agreed on. Was billed as a balanced discussion of the threat of global warming. As I began to see ads for the program, I realized I'd been duped. I'm wondering if there's some way I can get to see it. If you do register some kind of complaint, can you let me know what it says?

Dave,

I just got off the telephone with someone named Martin Durkin who has promised to get me, by Monday, a dvd of the program. If it doesn't actually appear, I will take up your offer. Durkin of course insists that my views were in no way distorted, which from the unanimous opinions I've been getting from people who saw it, is simply untrue. But I've got to see it for myself before taking this any further. Channel 4 obviously hopes to sell the program abroad.

In the meantime, if anyone asks, I hope you'll say that I do believe that global warming is a very serious threat and any implication to the contrary borders on the libelous (as I think it implies great stupidity or willful blindness or both).
